

Spanish CD

Martin Funcell – May 22, 2009

My friend and I were driving to San Francisco to watch a concert and as we were cruising along we were enjoying our conversation while listening to some music on the car 6 CD player.

It turns out that I had a CD from my Spanish class loaded in the CD player and the music had switched over to this CD, but we were having such a good conversation that we hadn't noticed.

Before we knew it, we were talking Spanish to each other. And the funny thing is, my friend didn't know any Spanish at all.
